Inclement Weather Policy

Inclement weather is always a possibility in North Florida. If there is a possibility that weather may be a factor we will discuss options, which may include, rescheduling, delaying the train arrival if scheduling permits, or cancelling the event. There is a great deal of preparation involved in getting ready for the party. But, ultimately, if you decide the weather is going to prevent the guests from enjoying the train rides, then the other option is to reschedule for another time the train is available.
